

EntreAssess presented at International Entrepreneurship Education Summit in Germany

On 1 December, Rebecca Weicht of our project partner Bantani Education shared information about EntreAssess at the International Entrepreneurship Education Summit organised by Hochschule der Medien (Stuttgart Media University) in Stuttgart, Germany.

Talking to an audience of learners, educators and business people, she introduced the project to great interest.

IEES is an (un-)conference that wants to provide a platform to share innovative ideas and established best practices in teaching innovation and entrepreneurship. The focus is on learning from each other, allowing ample time for discussions and feedback. It is open to anyone teaching or promoting entrepreneurship in schools, at universities and within profit and non-profit organisations.
